Guidance for Prospective Postdocs and Postdocs

You are a PhD holder (or shortly before that) and working as a researcher at Leibniz University Hannover?

We offer you transdisciplinary guidance on the start of a postdoc and transitions to further stages, on roles in and circumstances of a career as a researcher as well as further steps into different fields of work.

Towards the end of your PhD and at the beginning of a postdoc...

... you want to get information on the phase, position and role of a postdoc, on further steps and the possibilities and circumstances of an academic career.

... you want to talk about and plan your further strategic steps, in academia or outside.

... you have questions concerning mobility or the balance between family, your qualification work and further research.

AKADEMIE

After two to four years in academia...

... you possibly have questions on how to plan your career as a professor and which qualification can be the best for you to be eligible to a professorship one day.

... you have questions concerning your academic portfolio or the "Wissenschaftszeitvertragsgesetz".

... you are thinking about which step to take.

Further in your academic career...

... you are on your track to becoming a professor and want to talk about next steps.

... you need support during preparing your applications for a professorship.

... you are thinking about alternative career options in or outside academia.

These and all further topics can be addressed in a personal consultation. An appointment for a consultation can be made directly with:
